The lawyers and senior policy advisers at OFW Law have a splendid reputation for depth, expertise, and creativity. Providing legal, regulatory and bipartisan government affairs representation to companies and trade associations in the food, drug, medical device and agricultural industries, we work to remove obstacles that our clients face and identify opportunities wherever they exist. Founded in 1979, OFW Law serves clients before federal agencies, courts and Congress.

With 35 attorneys and senior policy advisers with backgrounds in government, medicine and industry, OFW Law offers experience and knowledge difficult to find elsewhere. When an FDA or USDA-regulated company needs regulatory advice, faces enforcement action, confronts regulation or legislation that imposes unnecessary costs, undermines competitiveness, or has unintended consequences, the company must have an experienced law firm to protect its interests.
